

1:30pm – 3:00pm

A data native generation's approach to science: Science instruction Vs. inquiry into science

Panel Organizer: Mohammad Asadi Lari STEM Fellowship

A Data Native Generation's Approach to Science: Science Instruction Vs. Inquiry into Science

Une approche propre à la génération de données pour la science : enseignement scientifique ou requête scientifique

November 7th, 2018; 1:30-3:00 pm

Canada Science Policy Conference, Ottawa

Moderator's Introductory Remarks: Mohammad Asadi-Lari

Co-Founder and Managing Director, STEM Fellowship
MD/PhD Candidate, University of Toronto

@MHAsadiLari

Dr. Alan E. Winter, PhD

BC's Innovation Commissioner

BC Innovation
Commissioner

Dr Bonnie Schmidt, CM, PhD, FRSC

Founder and President, Let's Talk Science

@BMSchmidt

let's talk science

parlons sciences

Suzanne Kettley

Executive Director, Canadian Science Publishing

@skettley

Dr. Sacha Noukhovich, PhD, OCT

Founder and Executive Director, STEM Fellowship

Editor-in-Chief, STEM Fellowship Journal (SFJ)

A Data Native Generation's Approach to Science: Science Instruction Vs. Inquiry into Science

Alan Winter, PhD
BC's Innovation Commissioner

Bonnie Schmidt, CM, PhD, FRSC (@BMSchmidt)
Founder and President, Let's Talk Science

Suzanne Kettley (@skettley)
Executive Director, Canadian Science Publishing

Sacha Noukhovich, PhD, OCT
Founder and Executive Director, STEM Fellowship

Mohammad Asadi-Lari (@MHAsadiLari)
Managing Director, STEM Fellowship; MD/PhD Candidate, U of T

